Num pang is the new bahn mi

N

My new favorite sandwich, times two.

According to their website, Num Pang is Cambodian for sandwich. These sandwiches are similar in composition to Vietnamese bahn mi, with fresh cilantro and pickled vegetables, plus meat and mayo-based sauce. The num pang pulled duroc pork sandwich with spiced honey (pictured here) far outshines the baquette. Despite being half the size and twice the price of the baquette, the num pang is about quality over quantity. The perfect bread from Parisi Bakery is toasty on the outside, soft on the inside. The chili mayo is totally addictive. The pork was perfect. The whole combination was a delight, and way more
